When feeling worried, upset or angry, it can sometime be difficult for children to control how they feel. Taking some time just to concentrate on their breathing can often calm them down. If an adult begins, the child may just want to see what is going on and their breathing will fall in line with the adults. Take some time and focus on breathing before trying to discuss the issue.

Bumble Bee Breath

- 1 Sit comfortably and close your eyes.
- 2 Take a couple of breaths.
- 3 Breathe in through your nose, keeping your lips sealed.
- 4 As you breathe out, hum an 'M' sound.
- 5 At the end of your breath, breathe in and repeat.
- 6 Can you feel the vibrations in your mouth?

Warm Drink Breath

- 1 Sit comfortably and close your eyes.
- 2 Imagine you are holding a cup of warm drink in your hands.
- 3 Bring your cupped hands towards your face.
- 4 Breathe in through your nose and imagine what your drink smells like.
- 5 As you breathe out, imagine gently blowing the steam.
- 6 Repeat.

Balloon Belly Breath

- 1 Sit comfortably and close your eyes.
- 2 Take a couple of natural breaths.
- 3 Breathe in and blow out your tummy. Your belly is like a balloon filling with air.
- 4 As you breathe out, your belly will go back down as there's no air left.
- 5 Repeat, being careful not to push your belly out too much.

Hopping Bunny Breath

- 1 Sit comfortably and close your eyes.
- 2 Take a couple of natural breaths and sit up tall.
- 3 When you breathe in, inhale through your nose in three short sniffs. Imagine a bunny hopping along.
- 4 Breathe all of the air out.
- 5 Breathe in again with your bunny breaths.
- 6 Breathe out and repeat.
