

Design Technology

The children in Year 2 were given the challenge of designing and making a fire engine with wheels which turn. They had time to experiment and research how to attach turning wheels before being taught about axels and chassis. They then used their knowledge to create their vehicles.

