

Design Technology

In Year 3, the children have been learning about Romans. They researched Roman catapults and then used their designing and creating skills to make their own Roman catapults. They were able to use different tools, materials and joining techniques to create their products and then test and evaluate them.

