

Courageous Advocacy in Action!

During Courageous Advocacy week, 1B chose to be advocates for the creatures of the ocean and ocean pollution! We set up a plan to help create positive changes to our environment and our teachers helped us arrange a trip to Minnis Bay to do some litter picking.

We made posters and put these up around the school to encourage other children and adults to join our litter pick. We also performed a protest around the school.

We used plastic and junk modelling that we collected as a class to make our own sea creatures and created a display using our junk modelling to spread awareness of pollution in our seas and oceans.

"After we cleaned up litter, I asked my mum and dad if we could go and pick up litter too."

Now all of my family picks up litter."

We wrote a letter to the Parish Council asking for help to save the world and our sea creatures." Phoebe

"We made a chant it was, 'Save our sea, animals are dying, plastic is bad, it causes pollution'."
Isaac

"We chose to clean up our seas because the rubbish is hurting animals and the animals are dying." Willow

"We chanted at the beach while we picked up litter with our litter pickers."
